

1998 CENTENARY LADIES VOLLEYBALL

SOLID AS A ROCK

Ladies' volleyball players Erin Sansalone and Beth Bonner are 1998-99 Maroon Jackets

The Maroon Jackets, organized by Dean Mabel Campbell as a pep squad, was comprised of 12 junior and senior women with specified representation from each of three sororities and independents. They were hostesses at all events in which Centenary participated.

The original uniform was a maroon jacket with the name of the hostess' organization written across the back in white lettering and a large "C" on the left side of the front, white skirt and blouse and a maroon beret.

The first official appearance of the Maroon Jackets was at the 1931 Centenary-Texas A & M football game at the Louisiana State Fairgrounds where they welcomed 2,000 A & M cadets and supervised social activities that day.

The organization has undergone several changes since its inception. During the early years the Maroon Jackets performed at football games and parades and served as hostesses for College and city functions. In the early 1950's a honorary monetary award was established by Shreveport businessman and civic leader and Maroon Jacket benefactor, Ray Williams, to recognize an outstanding senior woman who exemplified the qualities expected of a Maroon Jacket who had not previously been selected as a member of the organization. Since 1979, men have been included in the membership.

The Maroon Jackets continue serving as the official hosts and hostesses of the College, conduct campus tours and assist at orientation and various campus events. In recent years it has become a tradition for Maroon Jackets to decorate the main entrance to the campus in preparation for the Centenary Christmas Celebration and to sponsor a campus angel tree for the Salvation Army as well as to fill Christmas stockings for the Salvation Army. In fall, 1996, the organization joined a nation-wide effort by sponsoring "Make A Difference Day" to encourage the Centenary community to take pride in their college and country.

The Maroon Jackets organization not only honors students for past achievements, but provides an opportunity for continued recognition through service to the school during their final year at Centenary.

Today any full-time student entering his or her final year of study at Centenary with a 3.0 cumulative grade point average is eligible for consideration for membership in this organization. Membership is open to a minimum of five and a maximum of 25 students. Selection is made by the present members of the Maroon Jackets based upon the criteria of scholarship, leadership, campus involvement and service to Centenary. The names of the new Maroon Jackets are announced at Honors Convocation each spring.

This year's elite group of 14 Maroon Jackets includes Ladies' volleyball players Erin Sansalone and Beth Bonner.

DR. KENNETH L. SCHWAB

President

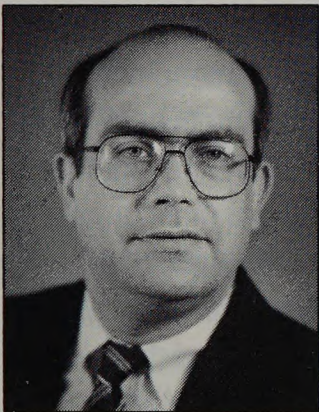

Dr. Kenneth L. Schwab, an award-winning educator with a keen interest in leadership and strategic planning, was appointed Centenary College's 34th President, August 7, 1991. His efforts to maintain Centenary's reputation as one of the premier liberal arts colleges in the nation has resulted in enhanced student life and increased academic quality during his tenure.

Dr. Schwab came to Centenary from the University of South Carolina where he was Executive Vice President for Administration (1988-91) after serving as Executive Assistant to the President for Institutional Planning (1986-88).

From 1970-1986, Dr. Schwab held administrative positions at Guilford College in Greensboro, NC. He was the Assistant Dean of Students and Director of Residential Operations (1970-74), Dean of Students (1974-80) and Assistant to the President for Institutional Planning and Community Relations (1980-86).

Dr. Schwab holds the doctor of education degree (1978) from Indiana University, master of education degree (1972) from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and the bachelor of science degree (1969) from Purdue University, where he graduated with honors as the 1969 Outstanding Senior. He has done post-graduate studies at both Johns Hopkins University and Harvard.

Dr. Schwab and his wife, Patricia, who also has a doctorate in education, are the parents of three sons: Kempton, Carlton, and Christopher.

RUSS SHARP

Director Of Athletics

In his fifth year as the Director of Athletics, Russ Sharp has made quite an impact on Centenary's athletic department.

Since coming from Arkansas State, where he served as Assistant Athletic Director for four years, Sharp has created a sports medicine facility, advertising partnerships and has developed a master plan for facility improvements.

Two phases of his facility improvements plan have already been completed. The first phase of the plan was the construction of a new softball field which was completed in spring, 1996 and lights are expected to be placed in time for next season. Fall, 1996, his hard work brought about the expansion of the soccer field and the installation of a state of the art scoreboard which completed phase two of the plan. Other phases of the facility improvements included the addition of permanent seating for baseball, softball and soccer.

Sharp has also worked on fund raising campaigns and has created a marketing plan to lead the Centenary athletic department into the 21st century. He has served as the chair of the Trans America Athletic Conference Nomination and Finance Committee and this fall will begin participation on his fourth NCAA Certification and Peer Review Team as well as his first NCAA Rifle Committee.

Prior to Arkansas State, Sharp spent 13 years at West Georgia College where he served as Assistant Athletic Director for Business Affairs and Executive Director of the Braves Club.

A 1983 graduate of West Georgia, Sharp and his wife, Teri, are the proud parents of 15-month old Matthew Glenn Sharp.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Nationally recognized by U.S. News and World Report, Money Magazine, Peterson's Guide to Competitive Colleges and others, Centenary College of Louisiana is noted for providing an environment for success, both for its students and for its faculty.

Founded in 1825, Centenary College is the oldest private liberal arts institution West of the Mississippi River.

Centenary provides a superior education for students capable of intellectual leadership and for those who can benefit from study in an academic community where excellence is encouraged and individuality is respected. Centenary places emphasis on preparations for various professions. The college is an institution of the United Methodist Church.

Centenary boasts a student/professor ratio of 11 to 1 for its 850 undergraduates, while classes rarely exceed 30 in introductory courses. Centenary is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Recently, a Centenary education was recognized in "U.S. News and World Report" as the best value among regional universities in the South. Centenary also ranks eighth among the South's top universities in the magazine's "America's Best Colleges" issue.

Shreveport is located on the west bank of the Red River in northwest Louisiana. The metropolitan area has a population in excess of 300,000 and forms the geographical, cultural, and economic center of the region known as the Ark-La-Tex. Centenary is located two miles from downtown Shreveport.

100 YEARS OF ATHLETICS

Centenary has a treasured history in athletics, dating back to 1894 when the school fielded its first football team for a game with Louisiana State University.

As a matter of fact, Centenary once boasted of having one of the finest football teams in the nation. The Gents posted a perfect 10-0 record back in 1927 with a team coached by Homer Norton. That year, Centenary defeated four Southwest Conference opponents (SMU, Baylor, Rice, and TCU) to start the season and finished off the memorable campaign with a 59-2 whipping of Louisville. Centenary outscored its opponents 261-38 over the 10-game span.

Magale Library

In that era, 13 Centenary football players went on to professional careers, including: Conway Baker, Buddy Parker, and Robert "Cal" Hubbard.

Hubbard was the most illustrious of the group, starring on championship teams and earning induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame and the College Football Hall of Fame. He is a triple rarity in that he also is in the National Baseball Hall of Fame as an umpire.

Centenary is also part of an NCAA football record that has stood for 60 years--most punts by two teams in one game. The Gents and Texas Tech combined for 77 punts as they battled to a 0-0 tie, November 11, 1938 in Shreveport. In that game players reported the rain was so hard that the water was entirely above their shoes.

Centenary discontinued football in 1947 due to the poor oil economy in the Ark-La-Tex region.

TODAY

Centenary is a charter member of the Trans America Athletic Conference (established in 1978) and is in its 21st and final year in the TAAC.

Centenary sponsors 15 men's and women's intercollegiate sports: baseball, basketball, cross-country, golf, rifle, soccer and tennis for men and, cross-country, golf, gymnastics, rifle, soccer, softball, tennis and volleyball for women. Centenary will add women's basketball for the 1999-2000 season.

In the 20-year history of the TAAC, Centenary has won 11 conference championships. The Centenary Athletic Department was the recipient of the Jesse Fletcher Award in 1983-84 for the TAAC's best all-around program and was runner-up for the honor from 1988-1990.

OUR NICKNAME

The unique nickname "Gentlemen" was first established in the fall of 1921 by then Centenary President George Sexton. It seems the football team had been in a fight the previous game, and Sexton sat the team down before the next game and told the players, "...from now on, you will all act like Gentlemen".

With the majority of Centenary men also soldiers, the moniker "Gentlemen" was a logical choice. A tongue-in-cheek account that first mentioned the new nickname appeared in the 1923 Yoncopin (Centenary's yearbook) in the football summary.

"...there was some doubt on the eve of the first game. Reports from the Marshall camp had them recruiting from the boiler factories and we were made to believe that the Marshall team was coming to Shreveport to mop-up with the 'Gentlemen' (you see we had just taken the name of the 'Centenary Gentlemen' and far be it from us to start a dispute just at that time). Well, we put on our best manners but just couldn't help running up a 77-0 score..."

The nickname has stuck ever since and it was natural to call the women's teams the "Ladies" when the school began women's sports in the 1960's.

CENTENARY

SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

Centenary College is the oldest chartered private liberal arts college west of the Mississippi River, as it was established in 1825.

Centenary College is the alma mater of Robert Parish, member of four NBA championship teams, Hal Sutton of the PGA Tour, former U.S.A. Olympic gymnast Kathy Johnson, former Major League baseball player Cecil Upshaw, and Robert "Cal" Hubbard, who is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame as a player, and the National Baseball Hall of Fame as an umpire.

Centenary College is the smallest NCAA Division I school in the country with just 850 students.

Centenary College finished first in the TAAC All-Academic Sports Race in the fall of 1994, the basketball team boasted a 100% graduation rate for its athletes from 1983-85 and the volleyball team posted a team GPA of 3.92 in 1997-98.

TRANS AMERICA ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

In the ever-changing environment of collegiate athletics, the The Trans America Athletic Conference (TAAC) continues to balance academic and athletic excellence while blending a unique style of tradition and growth. The TAAC, founded September 19, 1978, stands firmly upon its purpose as stated in its constitution and bylaws, "...to assist its member institutions in the maintenance of programs of intercollegiate athletics which are compatible with the highest standards of education and competitive sports."

The TAAC again enjoyed success in the classroom and on the playing fields as a record number 960 student-athletes earned all-academic honors in 1997-98, surpassing the previous mark of 908 set in 1996-97. The University of Central Florida took home the TAAC's All-Academic Championship Trophy in 1997-98 as 52.6 percent of its student-athletes earned conference all-academic honors. Georgia State University earned the prestigious conference honor of winning both the TAAC Men's and Women's All-Sports Championships in 1997-98.

The TAAC welcomes Jacksonville University (Jacksonville, FL) as a full member in 1998-99 as the Dolphins were associate members in men's and women's soccer in 1997-98. With some of the finest private schools and fastest growing state schools in the Southeast, the TAAC will have more than 2,000 student-athletes competing in the Conference in 1998-99.

The TAAC has become one of the top all-around collegiate athletic conferences in the country. In its 21st year of operation, the TAAC continues to strive toward providing its member institutions the best arena for academic and athletic success.

FRANCES KINNISON

Head Coach

In 1997, then first-year head coach Frances Blackburn brought the slogan, "Same Game, New Name" to Centenary volleyball. That attitude led to a school-record nine wins for a first-year coach at Centenary.

This season, the Ladies slogan could be, "Same Coach, New Name" as Blackburn became Frances Kinnison when she married her high school sweetheart, David earlier this year.

During the off-season, the Graham, TX native also managed to complete her first full recruiting season by bringing four newcomers to Shreveport.

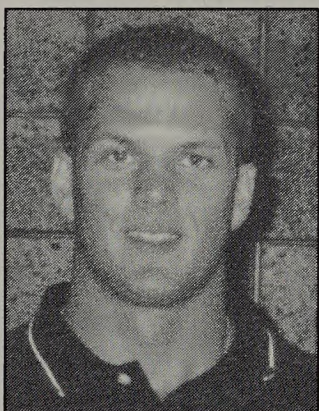

Kinnison bounced around for eight seasons before finding a home with the Ladies. A 1990 graduate of Angelo State (San Angelo, TX) with a bachelor of science degree in accounting, she served as an assistant at the United States Naval Academy (1989) before becoming the head coach at Bowie State (1990-91).

During those two years, Kinnison guided Bowie State to its first winning season and first post-season appearance. She also worked as the Senior Women's Administrator and interim head women's basketball coach at the Maryland school.

In 1992, Kinnison left Bowie State to become the restricted earnings coach at Texas Tech. She also served as the head coach for the Red Raiders' men's club team in 1993 and 1995.

In between her stints at Texas Tech, she found time to become the first American woman to play professional volleyball in Brazil when she joined Jundai Clinicas team of Jundai, Brazil. Kinnison spent the 1996 season as the head coach at El Centro Community College in Dallas.

Kinnison enjoyed a successful high school career in Levelland, Texas, where she garnered all-state honors in basketball and all-district Most Valuable Player honors in volleyball. She attended Angelo State on a basketball and volleyball scholarship. A three time all-conference selection in college, Kinnison led Angelo State into the quarterfinal of the NCAA tournament in her senior season.

DOUG PYLES

Assistant Coach

Doug Pyles enters his second year as an assistant coach with the Ladies.

Pyles is a native of Midland, TX and is pursuing a degree in history at nearby Louisiana Tech.

The 22-year old is the volleyball coach of his squadron team at Barksdale Air Force Base in Shreveport.

In addition, Pyles plays on the NEPP club team of Shreveport and neighboring Bossier City.

As a player, Pyles took part in the National Volleyball Finals in Outdoor Doubles in Clearwater Beach, FL in August.

An active member of the United States Air Force, Pyles is a flying crew chief on the U.S.A.F.'s B-52H aircraft.

SENIORS ARE THE FOUNDATION

If you ask Centenary volleyball coach Frances Kinnison what the key to the Ladies' 1998 season will be, she will undoubtedly reply, "Senior Leadership."

When you consider Centenary's four seniors have been in the program since their freshman season, it is easy to see why.

Last season, outside hitter/middle blocker Kim Bolin (Colleyville, TX) established three single-season records and two career marks on her way to becoming the first Ladies' volleyball player to earn all-conference honors when she was named to the Trans America Athletic Conference's (TAAC) third team.

Bolin's records included a Centenary single season record 1,010 kill attempts, 347 kills and .210 kill percentage. In addition, her 2,368 career kill attempts and 709 kills are the most by a Lady since Centenary began volleyball in 1985.

Bolin also enters the season second in career block assists with 88 and third in career digs with 656 and could leave Centenary as the record holder in both categories.

While Bolin will again be a go-to player for the Ladies this year, expect her to have a supporting cast that has the Ladies thinking about the TAAC Tournament.

Fellow senior Erin Sansalone's (Slidell) off-season regiment has made and impression on Kinnison.

"Erin is on a mission and I have told her that," Kinnison said. "Watching her in (pre-season) practice, you can see how hard she has worked. She is going to make her last year the best."

Sansalone will be asked to provide a wall for the Ladies at middle blocker while seeing some time on the outside. If things go according to plan, she made get as many swings as Bolin, thus giving opponents two forces to deal with on the outside.

Defensively, Sansalone has been spectacular in her career as evident by the fact she ranks fourth in career block solos (39), third in career block assists (76) and sixth in career total blocks (115). Her 32 block assists last season was the fifth best in Ladies' history and included a school-record seven at Prairie View A & M, September 5.

Centenary's

other two seniors are setter/outside hitter Julie Baldwin (Houston, TX) and defensive specialist/outside hitter Beth Bonner (Baton Rouge). Both will provide much needed leadership while adding depth at various positions.

Baldwin is an excellent setter who holds the school record for assists in a season (506 in 1994) and is third all-time at Centenary with 658.

Baldwin's ability as a setter will allow Kinnison flexibility when it comes to substitutions, a luxury she did not have last year when the Ladies played most of the season with only nine players.

Bonner goes all out, a style of play that has resulted in 497 career digs, fifth best at Centenary. She will be asked to provide back row help, especially when the Ladies are in need of a sideout.

Ladies' seniors (L to R) Julie Baldwin, Erin Sansalone, Kim Bolin and Beth Bonner will be called upon to be rock solid for coach Frances Kinnison.

Not only will this year's seniors be counted upon for results on the court, they will be asked to be leaders around campus and the community.

"I expect leadership from my seniors," Kinnison said. "But leadership on the court is not enough. I have assigned all four seniors to different areas of campus and community. I want them to be examples for others to follow because they are great kids."

Junior setter/
outside hitter
Robin Hill
(Houston, TX) showed tremendous improvements during her sophomore season.

"Robin was solid as a setter and she really came around in the second half with her hitting," Kinnison said.

While Hill is second in career assists at Centenary with 675 and needs only 24 to become the school record holder, the best aspect of her game may be the serve.

In 1997, Hill establish a school record with 42 aces and holds the career mark with 74.

She was a big reason the Ladies shattered the previous team record of 126 aces (1993) with 205 last season.

Three sophomores, middle blocker Krissi McFarland (Fort Worth, TX), outside hitter Janna Marshall (Marshall, TX) and setter Kristy Sullins (Mesquite, TX) also return after seeing plenty of playing time last season.

"They got plenty of experience last season, more than most freshmen do," Kinnison said. "At one point, the three of them were starting together. I expect more from them this year because of that experience."

In 1997, Sullins registered 286 assists despite not taking over the primary setter's role until two-thirds of the season has passed. Her best performance came against Jacksonville State, November 1 when she recorded 43 assists.

McFarland will provide depth in the middle and Marshall will do the same on the outside.

The inaugural Centenary Ladies Volleyball Alumni Match is just one of the traditions coach Kinnison is trying to establish.

McFarland's 33 aces in 1997 are the fourth best single-season total in Centenary history.

Marshall appeared in 91 games and registered 91 kills last season.

"I think people will see improvements this season because these players know my philosophy," Kinnison said. "We are way ahead of where we were last year at this time."

Kinnison's first full year of recruiting resulted in four freshmen coming to Centenary. Three of the four, middle blocker Marcille Cox (Austin), outside hitter/setter Jill Melnick (Carrollton) and middle blocker/outside hitter Joci Petten (Texarkana) are from Texas and will see time as role players this season.

The fourth freshman is Cassiana Costa (Barveri, San Paulo, Brazil) who is the first South American to play volleyball for Centenary and will be used primarily as a setter.

The Ladies' schedule includes three September trips to Texas for tournaments. Centenary will face Baylor, Oral Roberts, Texas Tech and UC-Santa Barbara in those tournaments.

Centenary senior Beth Bonner and ESPN/ABC's Robin Roberts at the NCAA Leadership Conference

Beth Bonner, a senior on the Centenary Ladies' volleyball team, is a prime example of how student-athletes combine academic excellence with athletic competition.

This past May, a four-year member of the volleyball team, Bonner took part in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) second annual Foundation Leadership Conference.

The NCAA, along with Entergy, sponsored the conference and provided transportation for the student-athletes to and from Orlando, FL and supplied three-day passes to Disney World for those in attendance.

Bonner was one of 331 student-athletes selected from 222 colleges and universities around the country to attend the event.

Those in attendance at the conference were assigned to teams and asked to discuss some of the issues that face collegiate student-athletes today.

Each group was asked to establish goals for the assigned issue, identify allies and obstacles and design a plan for action.

The two issues in which Bonner took part in discussion were the relationship between the student-athlete and his/her coach and the responsibility and/or role of the media in dealing with the identity of the student-athlete.

The findings of Bonner's group were both perceptive and revealing. Student-athletes expressed a desire to have a solid relationship with their coach while understanding the perspectives of one another. Student-athletes also showed interest in an open door policy with their coaches and taking part in practice sessions that are fun, informative and educational.

In dealings with the media, the group felt the media often depicts athletes in a negative light and does not focus on enough of the positive things in collegiate sports.

"I think it is important people know about this conference because it is a positive part of college athletics," Bonner said. "Too much is said about the negativity surrounding college athletes. It is about time some of the good things were reported."

The group focus was to find ways to reduce barriers between student-athletes and the media and to promote positive images. The student-athletes who took part found it important to develop a process of steps of interaction with the media in order to promote the individual's school, academics and athletics in a positive way.

Staff members from various college and university athletic departments also attended the conference and offered insight to some of the issues that face today's student-athletes and coaches were on hand to discuss the relationship between them and their athletes.

Robin Roberts, commentator for ABC and ESPN, closed the conference by talking about her experience as a student-athlete at Southeastern Louisiana.
